

Discover a Whole New World With Special Love

Special Love, a Mid-Atlantic charity for children with cancer and their families, started Tidewater Family Weekend in 2006 to give local families a chance to enjoy the “camp magic” that is the signature of all Special Love’s outings, but close to home!

The 5th annual weekend will be held at Jamestown 4-H Center in Williamsburg, VA, where you can canoe, hike, enjoy crafts, sing around a campfire, enjoy the serenity of the James River and do lots of other fun and stimulating activities!

While you’re there, you’re sure to have tons of family fun. Plus, you’ll get to meet other families who understand exactly what you’re going through.

Tidewater Family Weekend is open to the immediate family of any cancer patient 17 years old and younger, bereaved families with children 16 and younger, and active BRASS families. Special priority will be given to Richmond and Tidewater area families. Cost is just $25 per family (or you may check the scholarship request box on the registration form). All food and lodging is covered and you’ll even have some homemade souvenirs to take home!
